

How is the quote number determined?

Last revised Wednesday, 24 March 2010

---

The quote and order number in ShedTech is a unique number that is sequential across the entire ShedTech network.

You may have noticed that each time you do a quote, the quote numbers are different but not necessarily sequential. This is because a unique number is assigned to every quote by all ShedTech users. As the order documents and suppliers are the same, it would be confusing if a supplier received an order from two different ShedTech users with the same job number. It also allows ShedTech support to identify your job if you have an issue or question.

The quote number is also used as the order number when the quote is converted into an order. All quote and order documents will print out with this number.

If you perform multiple quotes for one customer, the best way to identify an individual quote is by the quote number.